

Western Bay Integrated Autism Service Service Update

COVID-19

In response to the Coronavirus Covid-19 outbreak and Government advice around social distancing, Western Bay Integrated Autism Service now offers the following types of support:

Email or telephone support for autistic adults, partners and parent carers of autistic people, who may be concerned about the impact of Coronavirus (covid-19), social distancing and self-isolation on them and their families.

Telephone advice for professionals about how best to support autistic individuals at this time.

Please note that the IAS is not a crisis service. If concerns are of an urgent nature, there please contact the relevant service, e.g. G.P, Mental Health Service, Crisis Team, Police, Social Services etc.
